

Citation: McDonald, Megan. "Stink, the Incredible Shrinking Kid." New York: Scholastic Inc., 2005.

Book Cover Found on Google Images.

Reviewed by
Mrs. Lungociu

"Stink, the Incredible Shrinking Kid"

By Megan McDonald

Summary: What would you do if your sister dropped the class pet down the drain and then turned on the garbage disposal?

Stink is Judy Moody's little brother. Not only does Stink have an impossible older sister, who is always making his life tough, but he's even lost the class pet (no thanks to Judy). To top it all off, Stink is shrinking!!! Will he be the smallest second grader in the world?

My Recommendation:

I recommend this book for anyone in grade 2 and up. Boys will like this book because it's about a boy who has an annoying sister that constantly makes things go wrong.

Opinion: "Stink, the Incredible Shrinking Kid" is a really great book. Megan McDonald does a nice job of writing this book from a kids point of view. She also did a good job of showing how much of a pain older sisters are. This is a must read book for all little brothers!